

Table of contents (13 chapters)

From the Islamic West to Cairo: Malikism, Ibn Tūmart, al-Ghazālī and al-Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ's Death

Albarrán, Javier

The "Bestsellers" of al-Andalus

Pages 31-56

Fierro, Maribel

Spolia and Classical Revivals in Legitimacy Discourses: From Cordoba to the Mamluk Mosques of Cairo

Pages 57-78

Calvo Capilla, Susana

Visual Traits of Otherness: Figurative Resources Used in the Depiction of Muslims in Mediterranean Romanesque Sculpture

Pages 81-97

Monteira, Inés

Islamicate Goods in Gothic Halls: The Nachleben of Palma de Mallorca's Islamic Past

Pages 99-115

Bauer, Doron

Granada and Castile in the Shared Context of the Islamic Art in the Late Medieval Mediterranean

Pages 117-139

Ruiz Souza, Juan Carlos

In the Shadow of Toledo, Seville, and Granada: On the Historic Significance of Murcia for the Transmission of Islamic Knowledge in the Twelfth and Thirteenth Centuries

Pages 143-162

Conrad, Michael A.

Islamic Legacy in Medieval Iberian Societies: Building Rules

Pages 163-188

Pinto, Sandra M. G.

From aḥbās to habices: Continuity and Transformation of Pious Endowments after the Castilian Conquest of Nasrid Granada

Pages 189-204

Carballeira Debas, Ana María

Siculo-Arabic, Andalusī and Fatimid Ivory Works: Iconographic Transfers and Visual Propaganda

Pages 207-221

Silva Santa-Cruz, Noelia

Ornamental Transfers in Textile Production in Almohad and Nasrid Periods

Pages 223-238

Rodríguez Peinado, Laura

Art and Science in al-Andalus and the Late Medieval Mediterranean Cultures: Almohad, Nasrid and Ayyubid Astrolabes in their Context

Pages 239-252

Hernández Pérez, Azucena

Final Remarks: ArtMedGIS Project: Artistic Exchanges between East and West in the Late Medieval Mediterranean

Pages 255-267

Marcos Cobaleda, María