

Jason W. Moore, a historical geographer and environmental historian, is professor of sociology at Binghamton University. He co-coordinates the World-Ecology Research Network. His books and essays include Capitalism in the Web of Life (Verso, 2015) and, with Raj Patel, A History of the World in Seven Cheap Things (California, 2017). Moore's essays, popular and scholarly, can be found in over 20 languages on his website: <https://jasonwmoore.com/>. Correspondence: jwmoore@binghamton.edu.